Season of Singing

The new life and warmth of spring are such beautiful reminders of the love of God in Christ. Dark winter cold and damp make way for new life, fragile warmth and spring sunlight. Our dead-looking trees and gardens now start to reveal their life. Flowers out of sight underground break through, weathering the still variable weather to bloom radiantly.

God loves and sustains us through every season of life and is always working in us. With him at hand, we can sing through trials, like the robins in the storm. We suffer and there is loss. But we never lose the love God has set on us in Christ. It is more real than anything else. It is sure. Christ ended once and for all any and every reason to fear God - He has removed our sin and gives us His righteousness and all the benefits that go with it.

Like the new spring shoots poking trembling stems out into the uncertain elements, our roots need to be secure. They can be, in the unending love of God. Then, despite all we might face, we are secure, held, known and reassured. Trials and suffering then drive us deeper into love and prove His love.

God is the perfect Father, who is able. Christ is the perfect husband, who sacrificed, in humiliation, life itself for us, disinterested and hostile though we sometimes are. But He comes, making us pure and love-filled so that when our blooming comes, after the winter has past, our season of singing resounds with love-filled praise to the One who calls us His own.

I pray that this spring would bring you many new encounters with the wonder of the Lover of your soul.

Revd Rosy Ashley

From the Organ Bench

Who's heard of Philipp Nicolai?

Not many, I suspect. But more will recognise Sleepers, wake and Three kings from Persian lands afar. If so, they might ascribe the first of these to Johann Sebastian Bach and credit any one of Bach, Michael Praetorius and Peter Cornelius with the second.

Poor old Nicolai (1556-1608). Fame has eluded him, although in fairness he probably didn't seek it. He was a German Lutheran pastor and theologian who added these two hymns (both words and music) as an appendix to a devotional book Reflections on Eternal Life. Presumably he harmonised the tunes; but Bach (1685-1750) either did it better or was more accomplished at selling his version. If it's any comfort, Nicolai's contemporary Hans Leo Hassler (1564-1612) suffered the same fate with the chorale O sacred head, sore wounded, sung at Passiontide and appearing several times in Bach's St. Matthew Passion.

Sleepers, wake (Wachet auf, ruft uns die Stimme) is inspired by the story of the wedding in St. Matthew ch. 25 where only half of the bridesmaids had filled their lamps with oil. The call from Jesus for us to be on our guard means that it has slipped easily into being sung as an Advent hymn. But the harmony in most hymn-books is by Bach.

Nicolai's other chorale, How brightly beams the morning star (Wie schön leuchtet der Morgenstern) also appeared in a work by Bach, and the arrangement of it by Michael Praetorius (1571-1521) is equally well-known. But nowadays it is best-known as the four-part chorale underpinning original words and music by Cornelius (1824-74), Three kings from Persian lands afar. The words were originally in German but translated by Herbert Bate, who was Dean of York in the 1930s.

Interestingly (well, I think it's interesting) Cornelius seems to have thought that the 'morning star' was the star that led the three kings (or wise men) to Bethlehem after the birth of Jesus. But it's likely that Nicolai's star was an allegory for the coming of Jesus - the original chorale thus being another hymn for Advent.

Cornelius's original work had the chorale played on the organ or perhaps harpsichord, but the most commonly found arrangement today is for a soloist (singing the Cornelius melody) with the chorale sung in four parts accompanying the tune. This is the work of Sir Ivor Atkins (1869-1953) who was organist of Worcester Cathedral for a splendid 53 years.

The merging of the two tunes together is a work of genius by Peter Cornelius; if you don't have a recording, do listen to it online. He wrote a Mass, a Requiem and three operas but joins the ranks of one-hit wonders by being remembered only for Three Kings.

But what a hit.

David Duvall

Sunday 26th January 2020

At the moment, we are thinking of doing Holy Communion but let us know what kind of worship you'd like:

Letter from the Right Reverend Peter Hancock, Bishop of Bath and Wells For Parish Newsletters – February 2020

Pick up your Bible with a new joy

Martin Niemöller was a Lutheran Pastor, best known for his opposition to the Nazi party during the 1930's. As a consequence he was imprisoned between 1938 and 1945, first in the Sachsenhausen and secondly in the Dachau concentration camps. He was fortunate to survive these experiences and, on his release, became a pacifist and a committed campaigner for nuclear disarmament.

A former U Boat Commander, in his book, 'From U Boat to Pulpit', he wrote about what the Bible meant to him during his imprisonment which included years of solitary confinement. He wrote: 'The word of God was simply everything to me, comfort and strength, guidance and hope, master of my days and companion of my nights. The bread that kept me from starvation and the water of life which refreshed my soul. And even more, solitary confinement ceased to be solitary.' These extraordinary words remind me of the hymn 'Lord thy word abideth.'

The Bible is still the most published and the most read book in the world. What makes it unique however, is that the books of the Bible were inspired by the Spirit of God and is the place where Christ is found and proclaimed and where God speaks. And St Paul, writing about the scriptures (The Old Testament) said, 'For everything that was written in the past was written to teach us, so that through endurance and encouragement of the scriptures we might have hope.' (Romans 15:4)

As we come to Lent might I suggest that we pick up our Bibles with a new joy, with fresh eyes and with a renewed determination to spend time each day reading the Bible. If we do we will find, as Niemöller and countless other people before us have done, that the Bible is indeed the Word of Life, the pathway to Jesus and the doorway to salvation. If we are looking for comfort and strength, guidance and hope we can find all those things within its pages.

The Right Revd Peter Hancock
Bishop of Bath and Wells

WANTED

Do you have any attractive and interesting old photographs (pre 1950) of Stoke Trister, Bayford or Cucklington villages and rural life that we could copy and display in the Arthur Morison Memorial Hall?

If so, please get in touch with Christina McKechnie at Hale House, Cucklington, t: 01963 32788 or e: xinamckechnie@gmail.com

Stoke Trister With Bayford PCC need to appoint a new Independent Examiner for the annual accounts. Accounting qualifications are not required, independence from the PCC is key and some practical experience of accounts would be helpful. More information is available at:

If you are interested in assisting, it is not an onerous role, please contact Geoff Syme on 07949 239864 for further info.

South Somerset Community Accessible Transport
(CAT Bus)

Appealing to any business or individual who may be able to offer some financial support either a one-off donation or on-going sponsorship to get in touch on the number below, alternatively we now have a donate button on our website address below.

We are a registered charity delivering a local minibus service that fills a void in transport to Wincanton and the surrounding villages. We help people of all ages who are unable to access service transport, some because they live in isolated rural areas so it doesn't run through their village or others because they have disabilities which make it impossible for them to use. We offer these people a life-line, enabling them to continue to live independently for longer whilst also helping them to overcome the loneliness and isolation of being stuck indoors with no means of escape. It's difficult for us to imagine how that must feel while we have our cars on the drive ready for any event, or the ability to walk or run to the service buses should the need arise.

It is easy to overlook the need for this service when we ourselves or our loved ones don't need it. But one day we or our friends/relations may need it, but if we don't support it now there is a good chance it will not be here for them/us.

We are constantly applying for funding. Unfortunately, many of the big funds are based in cities, so the people making the decision of whether or not to support us don't understand the rural issues regarding transport. They are able to step out of their front doors straight onto some form of transport, so totally missing the essential need for accessible transport in rural areas. Hence, I am appealing to local businesses in the hope that being local you are able to understand the desperate need for accessible transport in and around this beautiful, but often hard to reach area.

Many thanks for taking the time to read this article. I hope that you may feel able to offer some form of support.

Go the extra mile and help others

If you're above the age of 18, have a clean full driver licence and own a four-door car, why not volunteer for Somerset County Council to help others get to vital medical appointments? By committing as little as one day per week, you could greatly help a person who otherwise wouldn't be able to make appointments. Alternatively commit to more if that is what you choose!

Volunteer drivers provide a crucial transport service for non-emergency NHS patients and social care users enabling them to get to various locations across the county and further afield. You could also help transport children to college or to school, providing a crucial service to a young person's academic career. Each journey connects people with services they would otherwise miss out on. As a volunteer driver, you would be providing a vital lifeline to people in your community.

This is a rewarding opportunity to provide a valuable, practical support for people within your community and your mileage expenses will be reimbursed at up to 50p per mile. You will also be supported by a Transporting Officer from Somerset County Council's Transporting Somerset team.

Not only will you be helping the community, it's an excellent way of meeting new people.
